WELCOME TO OLD TOWN SCHOOL OF FOLK MUSIC

Old Town School of Folk Music is much more than a school of the arts — it is a community center that inspires people to explore and build their own creative lives through music and dance. In keeping with its active history, Old Town School continues to evolve, with a goal of expanding the extraordinarily inclusive community formed around its diverse core offerings, innovative programming, and unique partnership-based approach to arts presentation and education.

2014 was an excellent year for the Old Town School. Operations continue to run smoothly and we are proud of our well-managed and fiscally sound footing, which helped us to finish the year with a small surplus. The year's accomplishments include:

- A new manager was hired for our growing dance programs, which are the largest in Chicago.
- A new piano lab was built for group piano instruction, a first for Old Town School.
- A three-year grant from the Doris Duke Foundation for Islamic Art is deepening our collaborative relationship with the Inner-City Muslim Action Network (IMAN), providing a series of co-produced artist residencies focused on building bridges of understanding between Chicago's Muslim and non-Muslim communities.
- Our Audience Development Initiative continues to seek growth in our African-American, Hispanic/Latino and teenage audiences and participants. A key aspect of this has been a grant-funded collaboration between Old Town School and the National Museum of Mexican Art.
- Grant-funded programs in cultural exchange continue to enhance these efforts, bringing new levels of collaboration between Old Town School and artists in Colombia, Argentina, Brazil, Mexico and Turkey.
- Our partnership with Pullman Rail Journeys continues to place duos and trios from among Old Town School's faculty on weekly trips between Chicago and New Orleans.
- Blue Jean Gala 2014 raised $480,000 for the School's outreach programs and featured an exciting concert by Steve Martin and the Steep Canyon Rangers.
- In November 2014, the School hosted its first-ever Music Legend Awards, honoring long-time supporters Ella Jenkins and Joan Harris, along with three of our outstanding teaching artists, Steve Levitt, Maria McCullough and Shelley Miller.

This is definitely an exciting time at Old Town School of Folk Music. A new strategic planning process is currently underway. Our new facility has increased our physical capacity by 60%. A highly seasoned, professional team is now in place, leading all of our departments. Meanwhile, new programming and innovative initiatives in creative placemaking and international exchange are helping the people of Chicago to understand that the work we do has an important economic and social impact on a wide variety of communities, and that the teaching and celebrating of folk arts must include a global perspective.

We can speak for everyone at Old Town School that we remain committed to ensuring that Old Town School of Folk Music's unique style of community building through the arts continues to have a positive impact on Chicago's neighborhoods and citizens.

ORGANIZATIONAL SNAPSHOT

Founded in 1957, Old Town School of Folk Music is the largest community arts school in the United States. The School teaches and celebrates music and cultural expressions rooted in the traditions of American and global communities, offering a wide range of music, dance, and visual arts courses. Each year, nearly 16,000 unique students choose from more than 3,900 accredited classes and 6,200 private lessons in our catalog. Additionally, 350+ concerts reach an audience of more than 100,000 each year, highlighting a diverse roster of local, national, and international touring artists.

The Old Town School owns and operates two campuses situated in Lincoln Square and Lincoln Park, which include the 400-seat Gary & Laura Maurer Concert Hall and 150-seat Myron R. Szold Hall, along with classrooms, two music stores and cafés, as well as a resource center which houses over 20,000 recordings, books and other archived collections. More than 300 teachers and staff, 3,000 members, and over 400 volunteers aid in the effort at these locations. Square Roots, the annual music and craft beer festival produced by the School in partnership with the Lincoln Square Ravenswood Chamber of Commerce, brings in diverse musical acts, craft beer aficionados and music lovers from all over Chicago and the midwest.

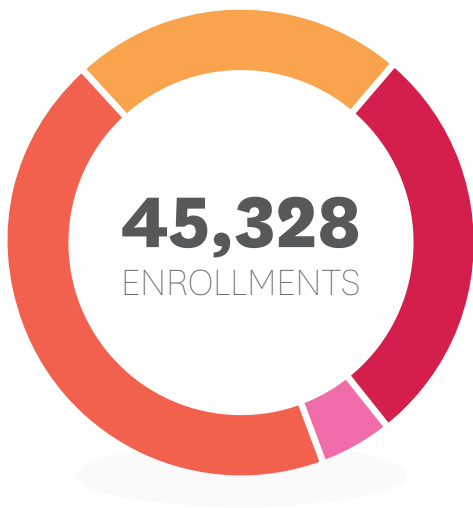

In addition to the Lincoln Square and Lincoln Park campuses, the School serves 3,000 children through outreach programs in 15 different Chicago Public Schools, community centers, and other facilities. To make our programs accessible to as many people as possible, the School annually provides more than $200,000 in financial aid to help children and adults alike take classes in music, dance, and the arts.

OUTREACH PROGRAMS

Guitars for Growth

Our Guitars for Growth program provides music instruction in electric guitar and bass to 450 incarcerated youth at the Cook County Juvenile Temporary Detention Center. This program seeks to empower students by cultivating musical literacy, historical and creative understanding, and emotional awareness and stewardship.

Artist Engagement Services

Artist Engagement Services provides performing artists for more than 650 concerts each year, including classes and workshops, year-round programming, corporate events and private parties. Highlights include:

- Chicago Botanic Garden
- Exceptional Wiggleworms at National Lekotek Center
- Chicago Park District as part of Toddlers Tunes and Turtles and Concerts in the Park
- Lincoln Park Zoo's Locally Sourced series
- Pullman Travel, with live performances aboard the City of New Orleans
- Wiggleworms in Millennium Park
- Festivals such as St. Helen Fest and the Skokie Backlot Bash
- Public Libraries throughout Chicagoland

The School also fosters ongoing relationships with organizations dedicated to providing lifelong learning as well as therapy services to our older citizens. We provide weekly artists who perform at a dementia unit where patients regularly 'awaken' in ways their caregivers have not seen when exposed to music and encouraged to sing and dance along!

Bringing Music to Local Children's Hospitals

Through generous funding and external partnerships, the Old Town School of Folk Music is able to provide musical experiences for toddlers to 12 year olds at each of these Chicagoland locations:

- University of Chicago Medicine Comer Children's Hospital
- Shriners Hospitals for Children
- Rush Children's Hospital
- Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago

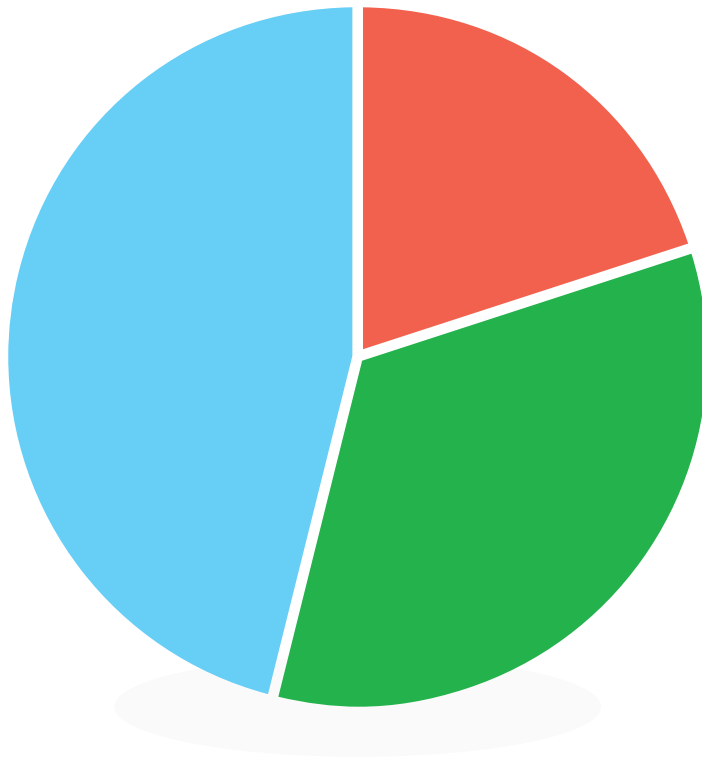

Our talented teaching artists visit these hospitals approximately 90 times a year, where they play music, sing, and engage children and their families in the restorative power of music. Via this program, the Old Town School is honored to provide more than 1,000 people per year with an opportunity that they may not otherwise experience.

Other Youth Outreach Programs

Old Town School continues its long-term partnership with Chicago House, providing after-school music and enrichment experiences to more than 40 children impacted by HIV/AIDS.

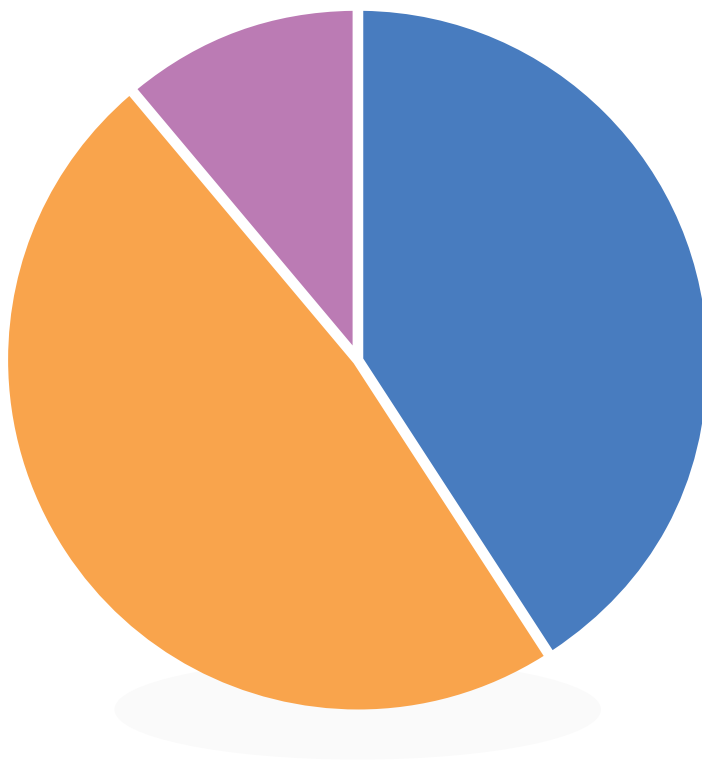

We continue to serve to children with special needs by providing tailored arts experiences at long-term partners Stuart G. Ferst School at the Anixter Center, North Shore Special Education District, and Rush Day School at Rush University.

We began a partnership with Simpson Academy for Young Women, a Chicago Public School serving pregnant and parenting students from 6th through 12th grades. Teen girls learned and performed traditional African dances for their peers and families. The greater Old Town School community was excited to provide a van-full of clothing, diapers and children's items as a 2014 holiday donation to Simpson students and their babies.

ARTIST-IN-RESIDENCE PROGRAMS

In 2014, nearly 3,000 children participated in Artist in Residence and Wiggleworms in Residence Programs in 15 different Chicago Public Schools and at the Carole Robertson Center for Learning. Additionally, over 5,000 children attended our field trip events at Old Town School.

“Because of this experience my students have a new, profound love for music and singing... In fact, many of my students have expressed an interest in singing, as their future career.”

– Georgina Velazquez, 3rd grade bilingual teacher at Nixon Elementary, participant in the Artist-in-Residence program Global Voices

“The most best camp
in the world!”

– Caitlin Hays,
camper, age 7

SUMMER CAMPS

In 2014, 195 kids from around Chicago attended our various summer camps, including two four-week sessions for 4 to 6 year olds and 7 to 11 year olds, as well as a one-week intensive Fiddle Camp!

“Old Town School summer camp is the most wildly creative, most efficiently run, expectations-exceeding, empathy-fueled arts camp in Chicago. Our daughter is in her fourth year, and we already have plans for her fifth and her little brother’s first. We love it.” –Nicole Steeves, parent
